CAYUGA ASYLUM.

The Cayuga Asylum for destitute children now located in the city of Auburn, N. Y., was founded by the unwearied efforts of a few benevolent ladies, in the spring of 1852, and incorporated by an Act of the Legislature the same year.

"The object of this institution (as specified in the Act of Incorporation) shall be to provide a home for orphans, half orphans, and destitute children, supply their necessities, promote their moral, intellectual and religious improvement, and fit them for situations of usefulness."

The management of its financial interests is entrusted to a board of nine male Trustees, (Sec. 4, Act of Incorporation,) the appropriation of its incomes, the care and management of its children, and its internal and domestic concerns, to a board of female Managers, consisting of three Directresses, a Treasurer, a Corresponding and Recording Secretary, a Provider, and Mauagers, residing at the time of their appointment in the city of Auburn and County of Cayuga.

The first meeting of the ladies, on record, was held May 5th 1852, when the society was organized, and the managers elected, as mentioned in Sec. 8 of the Act of Incorporation.

This Society in 1853 purchased the lot on which the Asylum now stands for	$ 3,500
In 1857 erected the main Asylum building on the lot, valued including lot and fence.....	12,000
Shortly after purchased the Harris premises for	,800
Subsequently purchased the Bradford premises for	,800

In 1870 laid flag stone walk and curb at a cost of.....	1,400
In 1871 repaired main building and fence, also made a new and more desirable passage or walk from the street to the front steps, at a cost of about.....	2,000
Total	28,100
The Asylum grounds now embrace about two acres of land.

Appropriations.

Have received special appropriations from the State amounting in the aggregate to $7,600.

Also the fund set apart by the State for Charitable Institutions from $400 to $1,400 annually.

Likewise County appropriations ranging from $300 to $2,500 annually.

In 1864 received from Jas S. Seymour and others voluntary donations to the amount of about $2,000, which was applied in liquidation of the then building debt.

Legacies.

In addition to the foregoing, the friends of orphan and destitute children have caused a constant stream to flow into the treasury from a great variety of benevolent resources too numerous to specify. We give on the following page a list of Auxiliary Societies, from which we acknowledge the receipt of repeated valuable gifts and many kind words of cheer.

From 1864 to Oct. 1st 1871, this institution has cared for eleven hundred and eighteen children.

The Board of Managers issue monthly a paper called, "The Orphan's Friend" which is a great assistance to the Asylum in enlisting the sympathy, and aid of the public, while it gives information to friends abroad of its management, and the history of the children committed to its care.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Ladies of the Board of Managers of the Cayuga Orphan Asylum :

To-day we celebrate the nineteenth anniversary of our Asylum for Homeless Children. Its life-work is now measured by almost a score of years. Reaching this new mile-mark in its history, we are called upon to gratefully review the past, and hopefully and prayerfully to regard the future. The year just passed has added a new and larger proof of God's care for the fatherless. Here he has given home to the homeless; he has given food and raiment, so there has been no lack. He has wrought wonderfully, restoring and healing mercies to the diseased. He has brought hither His quickening spiritual gifts, and taught these dear children of Himself. May our faith so interpret this overshadowing love, that from the fullness of our heart we may say "Surely the Lord is in this place and I knew it not."

At the beginning of the past year our family numbered 80. Remained the entire year 60. Entered new ones 62. Dismissed 45. Present inmates 96 Average number 88. Died 2. Total 111.

We are privileged to make record of a good degree of health prevailing in our Asylum family. This blessing seems the larger by way of contrast. Never has there been so large an amount of sickness in one year, as in the one just past. Of whooping cough there have been 22 cases—of measles 15—of scarlet fever 36. Several of the children have had all three combined. From all this multiplied sickness, two deaths only have resulted. Such exemption is quite unparalleled in the history of an equal amount of sickness in our private families. This visitation of sickness has wrought its own good. Of this Board, many have been quickened to new life in behalf of these suffering ones. How have we been blessed in the enlarging of our mother hearts, so that our love has warmed toward them as if they were our own. In this hospital, ministering to the wants of Christ's little ones, and thus sustaining their overtaxed care-takers, have we not felt, "it is good to be here?"

This spirit of cheerful giving and doing was manifested through the length of the county. Letters with words of cheer and sympathy, accompanied by needed help, came in such numbers as greatly to lift the burden. Responses to the great need flowed in from far and near. Care and comforts and delicacies came so freely and so lovingly that of almost 40 sick children, each had the tender nursing of a loving home. It is fitting we to-day record our thanks to this multitude of friends, whose precious charities were fully equal to the emergency.

We may to-day express thanks for the spared life and improved health of Mrs. Rogers—and also that her heart still inclines her to so faithfully stand by this post of duty. Among our largest blessings we may reckon the confidence we are permitted, that she, as the head of this large family, cares for it all, so wisely and so well. By her skillful managing of all this complicated machinery, she so lifts the burdens from our shoulders, that we are near to forgetting our official responsibility for the prosperity of this Institution. Her assistants also are working efficiently and conscientiously, fully deserving the meed of praise she gives them, as being her "own right arm."

Of the school we are permitted to report it to be in a flourishing condition. It is pleasant to feel the confidence we are allowed, that our children are under the discipline and guidance of so skillful and efficient a teacher. According to the decision of the Board, the school was not wholly discontinued during the entire nine weeks summer vacation. For six weeks two sessions of two hours each, were daily given the children, by an extra teacher. This new plan worked admirably for them both mentally and morally. We may and should, on these anniversary occasions, express ourselves gratefully, for the progress and improvement of the children. Our hearts are encouraged and made glad because of their advancement in school knowledge—because of their good deportment, and because of all the evidence they so largely furnish, of being a well regulated household.

We are permitted to report favorably of our Asylum treasury. Its immediate wants have been met by timely giving. This congratulation on the condition of our treasury does not imply, we "have much goods laid up in store." On the contrary, our matter-of-fact treasurer's report to-day reads, cash on hand $6.85. Our rejoicing comes from light hearts unburdened by debt, and humbly would we add, from faith and trust, begotten to a new life in the experience of this work. "For He careth for you."

The only legacy of this year, was the gift of $300 from the late Mrs. Miller. The State appropriation has been used as designed, viz: for improvements. Very pleasant to the friends of the Asylum is the sight of improved fences, better graded grounds, permanent stone walks, and all the repairs and renovated appearances of the buildings.

The important aid which has for many years come to the Asylum through the channel of the strawberry festival has this year been cut off. The Board counselled omitting this customary appeal, the occasion being so near the great sickness, when the host of Asylum friends had come to the rescue so large heartedly, that to tax them again and again seemed untimely. We are looking forward hopefully to the annual donation to replenish both cellars and stores. May the large hearts still give largely, and may many new ones open to the wants of the orphan. Some of our friends, while visiting the Asylum on pic-nic occasions, have been led to measure in some degree the wants of this large family, by remembering that in the providing of their one meal for these children, they had found neccssary a large outlay of food and effort, and this too by many families, and so have been led to ask, what must it be to provide three meals each day for 365 days each year? May this question lead to large practical results.

The Auxiliary Societies share largely in our gratitude to-day. The old ones stand by us as tried friends and true. To the new ones we extend the hand of welcome and of grateful fellowship. Of all we may say: "She stretcheth out her hand to the poor; yea, she reacheth forth her hand to the needy."

Through the usual kindness of the Supervisors, the treasury received $2,000, for which we exprss our gratitude.

We would return our thanks for the continued gift to the Asylum of the Daily Advertiser, Weekly Democrat, and Northern Christian Advocate.

We would thank the Postmaster for the appropriation, gratuitously, of a postoffice box to the Asylum.

We express gratitude due to Mr. Hickson for his gifts to the Asylum in the departmeut of undertaker. Connected with the deaths of the children he has freely donated all funeral expenses.

We desire to exprss our sincere appreciation of a long catalogue of assistance given from many friends. Among such is the annual gift of Mr. Sutton of more than twenty dollars' worth of medicine—the pleasant thanksgiving remembrance from individuals and from churches—the ample Christmas dinners, now given for eight successive years, by St. Peter's church—New Years dinner given in such kindly profusion by the respective towns of our county, and also for the valuable aid given by the young men of the Theological Seminary in their Sunday labors of love among the children.

Our heartfelt thanks are extended to Dr. Chase, the present acting physician. No year of the 19 has imposed heavier burdens upon a physician's time and patience. He has been instant—in season and out of season, even cheerfully offering to act as night-watcher. He brought to this overflowing hospital skill in rebuking disease, and his sympathizing and encouraging presence inspired the little sufferers with that trust and confidence, which in themselves, proved a healing power. His success in the treatment of acute disease has been marked; likewise some of a chronic nature. His judicious care and treatment of one little unfortunate should be mentioned. This little boy entered the Asylum and became a hopeless paralytic. He had previously been injured by a fall, causing him to lose the power of walking. He had been many months in this condition when the Doctor undertook his case. By scientific treatment with the galvanic battery and proper medical care, he is now all about, active and independent. Connected with the history of his helplessness here, it is pleasant to mark the good effects upon the character of the other children. It was touching to witness, not only the willingness of the strong ones to put their arms about him, being to him feet and strength, they even manifested a generous rivalry, striving who should most carry and support their dependent brother. How we love and honor those noble boys for their devoted sympathy and almost heroic patience. This little world has in it much of discipline, and we are inspirited anew in seeing its unmistakable fruits in the growing hearts and minds of these dear children.

For our encouragement to-day, we may notice the pleasant visits made to the Asylum by several during the past year, who were once inmates here. They came beautiful and strong and good in their mature manhood and womanhood. Simple and touching was their testimony as it came with their tears, "I should not be what I am if it had not been for this Asylum." And even many who have found good homes testify to their childhood happiness here, as "the best and sweetest ever found."

One great and unusual joy is ours to-day. Not one death has come to our Board of over 100 members. Not only may each name answer to the roll call, but we are likewise permitted the assurance that each heart answers responsive to this labor of love. It becomes us gratefully to remember that through all this year's Asylum work, there has abounded harmony and sisterly love. In this work the present hour is the threshold between the old year and the new. In stepping over, for ourselves we pray for a more earnest heeding of the Divine voice saying to us: "Feed my lambs." In our mission here, this command embraces both temporal and spiritual nourishment. May we pray and labor that they may be fed with "the bread of life." Our faith should be above, in the great Shepherd. Are not our hopes and prayers for these dear children well expressed by another: "We would give Christian citizens to our land, soldiers to Christ's army, and inhabitants to the courts of glory"

Respectfully submitted,

Oct. 4, 1871.

Mrs. S. S. Goss,

Cor. Sec'y.
